Competitions

ESC members are given opportunities to try out different competitions to apply their Science and Environmental knowledge. Some competitions involve the use of Microsoft's Minecraft: Education Edition (M:EE), which brings to life students' vision of a carbon-free Singapore in 2050 and beyond. Other competitions include greenwave competition where students need to research and build up a prototype to test their ideas to solve an environmental issue identified by the team.

ESC members' Minecraft project

ESC members building a prototype to test their idea